Two Burns Barred-Colored Brakeman Killed-Fell and Field Grate-Negro Boy Hurt-Base Ball News.

The Henderson Shoot.

The Hopkinsville Gun Club has returned from Henderson and the boys are loud in their praise of the generally hospitable manner in which they were treated by the Hendersonians. Our boys were met at the depot by the Henderson club with a brass band and were taken out to the fair grounds where they enjoyed an elegant barbecue, and at night they were taken in a body to the Park theatre. The shooting contest between the two clubs Tuesday afternoon was very interesting throughout, the score being 156 to 118 in favor of the Henderson club. This club is composed of crack shots, and considering the fact that only six members of the home club are in regular practice, they led them a fine fight and made a good score. Seven of our home club had never shot from a trap, but are good bird shots. The home boys were also placed at rather a disadvantage by having a very dark back ground, when they had been practicing in a clear field.

Fine Pressed Brick Clay.

Judge T. J. Morrow has discovered a very valuable bed of clay on his farm near the city. A barrel of it was sent to Walter C. Mitchell, of Cincinnati, to be tested and samples of dry pressed brick made from it have been sent back to Judge Morrow. Mr. Mitchell says it is the finest clay for red pressed brick he has ever seen and Cincinnati parties are anxious to come here and open up a plant. The bed is within a quarter of a mile of the L. & N. railroad and the only thing lacking to manufacture the brick largely is a satisfactory rate from the road to ship them away. A track will be run out to the bed and a big plant established, if terms can be made. The samples of brick are a beautiful red, finely polished and will sell at from $18 to $22 per thousand. A manufactory of this sort would give employment to many hands and we hope to see the plant established at once.

The Locals Win from Mayville.

Three of the most exciting games of base ball ever witnessed at Athletic Park came off this week when the locals crossed bats with the celebrated Mayville club. Mayville has several times beaten league teams this season and has held the state championship of amateurs, but they no longer carry the belt. They lost two out of the three games here and our boys are now the "leaders." On Monday the score was 8 to 1, in favor of Hopkinsville. Tuesday's game resulted: Mayville 4, Locals 8. The home boys did still better Wednesday and made 8 runs, visitors 0. All the games were hotly contested from start to finish and on the last day the crowd was about the largest of the season.

Trigg County News Notes.

CADIZ, Sept. 12.—Harry Pollard, a youth, while passing the jail Monday morning, was struck on the head with a bottle thrown by a prisoner. A long gash was cut on his forehead, from which blood flowed freely for some time. He was not seriously hurt, however.

Circuit court, which has been in session here for ten days, is moving along slowly with business. While the docket is a large one, there are few cases of much importance to the public to come up.

Mr. J. J. Chappell, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is now on the road to recovery.

Big Fire Near the City.

Late Wednesday evening a large tobacco barn belonging to Mr. J. C. Moore, and containing several thousand pounds of the weed, caught fire and was destroyed in a few minutes. While firing tobacco one corner of the building caved in, causing the entire structure to collapse. Mr. Moore's loss is estimated at about $2,000; no insurance.

Tobacco Barn Burned.

The large tobacco barn of Mr. Sterling Langley, of the Gresham's Chapel neighborhood, on Pond River, was consumed by fire about noon Monday. The building was filled with fine tobacco and it also went up in flames. Hands had been engaged in firing the weed and the building caught from the sparks. Mr. Langley's loss will reach $1,000, with no insurance.

Colored Brakeman Killed.

Freeman Fry, a colored brakeman on the U. V. railroad, fell between the cars at Repton, Crittendon county, Wednesday and was killed, being cut to pieces. A bullet hole was in his body and one theory is that he was shot by a tramp put off the train.

THE QUILL DRIVERS.

They will be here in Full Force on the 25d. The Press Convention is now getting close to hand and the Committee on arrangements is in urgent need of more help from the citizens.

The newspaper people are being overworked in preparing for the meeting and any citizens who expect to lend a helping hand are requested to report at once to Mr. W. A. Wilgus, chairman of the arrangements committee, or to any of the newspaper men of the city.

The preparations for the banquet are fully under way. It will be at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday the 24th, as an early start will have to be made for Atlanta the next morning. The banquet will be served in ten courses with about the same number of toasts. It will be the most brilliant affair of the kind ever given in Hopkinsville. There will be from 350 to 400 seats and the brightest press people in Kentucky will be present. The ball Monday night will be correspondingly brilliant, and is being looked forward to with much pleasurable anticipation. The attendance at the banquet will be limited to the members of the Press Association and the local contributors to the entertainment fund. There will be no complimentary tickets issued to anybody, so no one failing to get an invitation need feel slighted in the least.

About 200 visitors are expected and 140 of these have already secured transportation certificates. It is estimated that at least 150 will go to Atlanta. The Hopkinsville Band will go with the Association to Atlanta by special arrangement with the railroads and play wherever there is a demand for music.

A number of prominent editors have already engaged rooms at Hotel Latham. Among these are Sam J. Roberts and wife, Lexington Leader; Henry F. Woolfork and wife, Danville Advocate and A. J. Casey and wife, Owensboro Inquirer.

The Latham will give a rate of $2 for the third floor, $2.50 for the second and from $3 to $4 for special rooms in suites with bathrooms attached. The bridal chambers, some of which will doubtless be occupied, will cost $5 a day.

The Phoenix will make a rate of $2 a day anywhere in the house.

The hotel accommodations are ample and not surpassed in any respect by any city in Kentucky.

There will be seven trains Monday on the two roads upon which visitors can reach the city, the latest at 10:10 p. m.

Pettit and Field.

Col. Thos. S. Pettit, Populist candidate for governor, spoke at the court house Wednesday to a small crowd. Mr. Pettit vigorously assailed both of the old parties, devoting much of his time to national issues. He spoke an hour and a half. Col. Pettit was followed by Gen. Jas. G. Field, of Virginia, late candidate for vice-president, who spoke an hour and a half on the currency question and other national issues, from a Populist standpoint. Both speeches were well received. Only a few country people were in town, as it is a very busy season with the farmers.

Jordan Taylor's Son.

Ed Taylor, the negro boy who was struck by a train at Casky Sunday, is still alive. He had both legs broken and was otherwise injured. The amputation of one leg is necessary, but Taylor refuses to part with it and is liable to die, without the operation. Taylor is a son of Jordan Taylor, hanged here ten years ago. He was drunk on the track. He is a boy about grown.

Elkton Merchant Assails.

T. P. Dew, a grocery merchant, of Elkton filed a deed of assignment Monday morning, naming Jno. M. Shanklin as trustee. Mr. Dew had only been in business there a few months and gives as a reason for his failure to collect his accounts. His liabilities are given at about $800, while it is thought his assets will reach $1,000.

AWFUL ACCIDENT.

MARS THE OPENING OF THE C. A. R. AT LOUISVILLE.

Six Members of the Louisville Legion Blown Up By a Cannon—Four Killed and Two Wounded—The Parade of Veterans Something stupendous.

Death in an awful form came to mar the G. A. R. festivities.

By the explosion of ammunition in the caisson of a cannon belonging to the Louisville Legion four members of Battery A and a colored driver were killed and two Legion men were wounded Wednesday. The accident occurred on Broadway, between Third and Fourth, at 5:50 o'clock. The men were on their way to Phoenix Hill to fire a salute to the G. A. R. parade.

Those killed were: Corporal A. L. Robinson, aged 26; Private Charles Biechler, aged 24; Private Charles Woods, aged 20; Private Archibald M'Bridge, aged 19; Wm. Adams, colored driver, aged 35.

The injured were Sergt. Fred Conn and Private Ed Hobbs.

The soldiers killed were members of Battery A, and belonged to a section of six in charge of one gun. Capt. David Castleman was in command. The five unfortunate were seated on the caisson.

Capt. David Castleman, who was in charge, was riding at the side of the detail. He escaped injury.

The caisson contained sixty pounds of powder, enough to fire forty rounds. The report that one of the men was smoking is denied by Capt. Castleman.

Col. John B. Castleman said it was one of those unfortunate accidents that can not be guarded against. A similar one occurred in Chicago during the strike in which three men were killed and several wounded.

Despite the awful catastrophe that has cast a deep gloom over the whole city, the official program of the day was carried out and the Grand Parade, the feature of the encampment, was carried out in full. This parade was participated in by all the visiting Posts and it is estimated that at least 50,000 men were on the march through the streets of Louisville. The parade was the most imposing sight ever witnessed in the South and the enthusiasm of the people was indescribable. Men wept and laughed and embraced each other and shouts of the "War is over," "We are a union now" and similar phrases were voiced by countless thousands. It is undoubtedly the biggest thing the South has ever known and is a lasting glory for Louisville and Kentucky.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Meeting Held Monday Night to Take Action in the Second Ward Matter.

Pursuant to the call of the chairman, Geo. E. Gary, the resident members of the county Democratic Executive committee, constituting the city executive committee, Messrs. Alex Campbell, Jas. West, and Geo. D. Dalton, met Monday night Sept. 9 to hear an appeal taken by Mr. M. C. Forbes from the decision of the city auxiliary committee, which recently declared Mr. J. D. Ware Democratic nominee for councilman in the second ward.

Argument was heard by counsel for the respective candidates. Upon the close of the argument the following resolution was offered by Mr. West:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that under the call, neither we, the city executive committee, nor the city auxiliary committee, have the authority or right to go behind the returns; the authority to pass upon the legality or illegality of the voters having been delegated to the officers."

This resolution was unanimously adopted by the committee. Esq. Campbell then moved that the committee adjourn to meet Thursday night to declare the Democratic nominees for councilmen in the several wards of the city of Hopkinsville, which motion was carried.

Adjourned till Thursday night, Sept. 12. GEO. E. GARY, Chm. GEO. D. DALTON, Sec.

The McPherson Property.

The auction sale of the valuable McPherson property on 15th street, Wednesday, was satisfactory to the owners and all sales were confirmed. The 25 lots brought from $60 to $300 each, the aggregate amounting to about $9,000.

C. E. Oliver, Rich Salles, J. L. Kennedy, Frank Monroe and others bought to build at once. Others bought for speculation. The two most desirable front lots were sold privately before the auction sale to Messrs. H. C. Gant and Walter Kelly.

Mr. W. L. Johnson and family left for Trigg county yesterday to spend some time recuperating.

NATIONAL LABOR DAY.

It Will Be Observed on September 2, This Year.

Preparations for Appropriate Celebrations Are Being Performed in All the Large Cities of the Country—Special Points of Interest.

Special Chicago Letter.

Labor day, September 1, will be observed on September 2 this year, the 1st falling on a Sunday. It will probably be more extensively celebrated than ever before. Certainly the element of enjoyment will enter into the celebration in a greater degree than it did a year ago, when so many thousands were out of employment and so many other thousands were suffering from depression of spirits as a result of the failure of the big strike led by the American Railway union. During the past few months the workman's day has been growing steadily brighter. Mills and factories that had shut down for an indefinite period have been gradually getting back to a satisfactory basis. In addition to this there has been legislation in a number of states calculated to benefit organized labor in a greater or less degree; so it may reasonably be inferred that the workmen are in a frame of mind to enjoy their annual holiday.

Nearly all the states have made Labor day, September 1, a legal holiday, and the general government has recognized it as such in the District of Columbia. This makes it practically a national holiday, and in most of the cities and towns of the United States there will at least be a partial suspension of business on September 2.

The demonstrations will be similar everywhere. In Chicago, where there is an ugly split in the ranks of organized labor, there will still be a grand street parade and a monster picnic, and they may be that the coming factions may waive their differences for one day and make a full display of their numbers. Socialism is responsible for the bitter family quarrel among the Chicago unions—a quarrel that has developed more bitterness and acrimony than many a fierce contest between capital and labor. As a result of the disruption there are now two central bodies in the city, each acting independently of the other. One of these is the Trade and Labor Assembly, which has been the controlling body for many years; the other is the Trade and Labor Congress, an organization formed by seceding unions.

Owing to this state of affairs the Building Trades Council has taken the management of the Labor day demonstration into their own hands. This organization has planned a parade complete with industrial features and novel displays, and a picnic where there will be a number of prominent speakers and games of various kinds. Whatever other organizations may do, there is no quarrel among the building trades unions, and their council will form the central figure around which the working people will rally on Labor's national holiday. In this connection the Eight Hour Herald, a labor paper edited by Mr. J. Carroll, says:

"The building trades have already taken steps to secure cooperation by the Trade and Labor Assembly and Labor Congress for a united demonstration on Labor day. An invitation from the council to the Trades Assembly has been accepted, and the Trades Assembly will participate. The Trade and Labor Congress has also been invited to join in, but has not as yet decided upon what course to pursue, giving as a reason for its hesitation a disinclination on the part of its members to engage in any affair in which the Trade and Labor Assembly is included. It is hoped that better counsels will finally prevail and that organized labor of Chicago will not be forced to contemplate the spectacle of two factions treating each other as though they were factions. A difference of opinion may reasonably be supposed to exist as to how central labor bodies should be conducted without carrying with it a conviction that the man who disagrees with you is unworthy of confidence."

Among the speakers who will address the Chicago workmen are Hon. Elmer Hardie, ex-member of parliament, representing the socialist wing of the labor party in England; John Swinton, of New York, and Col. W. P. Remond, of Chicago.

In Boston the carpenters will celebrate the day by demanding an eight-hour day and an increase of wages of five cents an hour. A draft of resolutions embodying the demands have already been formally presented to the Master Builders' association and it is understood that the whole force of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America will back up the demand. The Labor day demonstration in Indianapolis gives promise of being the grandest in the history of the movement. It will be a state affair, and the trades unions of Indiana will be largely represented. From New York, Washington, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Detroit, Philadelphia and all the other large cities come reports of extensive and elaborate preparations for the proper celebration of the day.

In Illinois there is much enthusiasm over the arbitration law recently enacted by the legislature. It is believed that the law will not only aid materially in the settlement of industrial disputes, but will eventually have the effect of putting an end to industrial wars in the state. Gov. Altgeld's appointment of commissioners under this law also gives general satisfaction. One of these commissioners is C. J. Riefler, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor; another is W. P. Rend, largely interested in coal mines and a recognized friend of the workman; the third is Judge Anthony Thornton, a well-known jurist who was a member of the Illinois supreme court from 1870 to 1873. The ratification of this law and of these appointments will enter into the celebration of Labor day in Illinois.

Several of the well-known leaders of organized labor in the west will be unable to participate in the demonstrations. Debs and Howard are still languishing in jail, and unless it should please the powers that be to release them before their terms have expired they will have to content themselves with reading the newspaper accounts of the holiday festivities.

Samuel Gompers, ex-president of the American Federation of Labor, and P. J. McGuire, first vice president of the same organization, will not be in America on the 2d of September. They sailed for England August 14, armed with credentials as delegates to the federation to the annual trades congress of Great Britain, which assemblies in September at Cardiff, Wales.

One of the new lights in the labor field is P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Mr. Morrissey entered the offices of the Brotherhood as a clerk in 1885, and his abilities were quickly recognized. For some years he has held the office of first vice grand master, until at the late convention in Galesburg, Ill., he was elected grand master to succeed S. E. Wilkinson. Mr. Morrissey is scarcely thirty-three years of age, but is regarded everywhere as the most prominent of the younger generation of railway men.

Mr. Morrissey is an able speaker and his voice will be heard on Labor day in the interest of trade organizations, of which he is an earnest champion.

J. F. HENDERSON.

TRUE HOSPITALITY.

An Italian Host Who Moved His Family

That His Guest Should Sleep. Mr. Rudolf Lehmann, in his autobiographical book, "An Artist's Reminiscences," relates a pleasing story of Italian hospitality. He had left Rome to escape his malarial heat, and was on his way to a province in the Apennine mountains on the confines of the papal states. When he reached Soriano, which is the seat of the sub-prefect of the province, it happened to be market day. The little inn was crowded, and the appearance of a foreigner attracted some notice. Mr. Lehmann says:

"An apparently well-to-do gentleman inquired about my intended route, and when he heard the name of the first little mountain village for which I was bound, he asked where I was going to lodge."

"At the inn, of course," I answered.

"But there is no inn," said the man.

"Allow me to give you a letter of introduction."

He then and there sat down, without asking so much as my name, and wrote an introductory note to his brother-in-law, the sindaco of the village of Alvito. Then he gave me his own name and address, and after making me promise to call on him on my way back, took his leave.

The village of Alvito was pitched like an eagle's nest on the top of a rock. My letter, addressed in the most ceremonious manner, procured me a most hospitable reception at the principal house, and after a comfortable night's rest my host supplied me with another mule and guide, together with another letter of introduction, and sent me on to Visco.

Here I received a friendly welcome from his excellency, Don Lorenzo Demarco, whose family included a host of children and grandchildren.

In the morning, after a much needed rest in a colossal state bed, I was awakened by my host who brought the customary cup of black coffee to my bedside. Surprised at the utter silence of the house, after a rather noisy evening, I asked where were the children.

"Oh," was the answer, "we were afraid that they might disturb your rest, so we have temporarily moved into another house that we have in Piscinaccio."

SENATOR PRICE'S LIFE.

Many Years of It Have Been Devoted to Public Service.

The most talked-of man in the United States just now is Senator Calvin Stewart Price of Ohio. Some of his opponents say that he is really a resident of New York; but the senator, who ought to know, claims citizenship in the pretty town of Lima, Ohio. According to his autobiography in the Congressional Directory, the senator was born in Denmark, O., September 17, 1845; entered Miami university, at Oxford, O., September, 1858; enlisted in Capt. Dodd's university company April, 1861, and served at Camp Jackson, Columbus, SENATOR CALVIN S. BRUCE, OHIO.

O.; in April, 1862, enlisted in Capt. Morland's university company A. Eighty-sixth Ohio volunteer infantry, and served the summer of that year in West Virginia; graduated at Miami university June, 1862; after teaching three months in the public schools at Lima recruited a company, reentered the service as captain of company E, One Hundred and Eightieth Ohio volunteer infantry, and served in the first division of the Twenty-third corps in Tennessee, Georgia and Carolina until July, 1865; he studied law in the department of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, and was admitted to the practice by the state and United States district and circuit courts at Cincinnati in the spring of 1865; was the Tilden electoral ticket in 1876 and Cleveland electoral ticket in 1884; delegate at large from Ohio to the St. Louis democratic national convention in 1888; was selected to represent Ohio on the national democratic committee, and chairman of the national committee, in the spring of 1890; was elected United States senator, to succeed Hon. Henry B. Payne, for the term commencing March 4, 1891. His term of service will expire March 4, 1897.

WANTS THE OFFICE.

Mrs. Stewart Would Be Her Own Successor as Sheriff.

Mrs. Helen C. Stewart, of Springfield, Mo., has been appointed by the county court to succeed her husband as sheriff of Greene county. She will serve until the unexpired term is filled out by the election of a sheriff to take the place of her husband, who died in the harness. The indications are that Mrs. Stewart will be nominated by the republican party and elected at the polls.

An effort was made to have the county court appoint her brother to the place, who would turn over the fees to Mrs. Stewart. Her brother is William D. Darwood, general baggage agent of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, and was perfectly willing to go into an arrangement of that kind. But in this age of bloomers and new women Mrs. Stewart promptly put her foot down on any such a policy and declared that she wanted the office. "Oh, I can run the office with my son," said Mrs. Stewart.

MRS. HELEN C. STEWART.

(Springfield, Green county, Mo. First woman sheriff in the United States.)

art. "He is now chief deputy and can greatly assist me."

The contest for the appointment has been a bitter one and Mrs. Stewart has frequently resorted to tears of impatience at the capers of the horrid men who could not understand her claims as quickly as she thought they should. There is a big fight on Mrs. Stewart in the ranks of her own party. Timid men swear by their beads that it shocks their modesty to think of a woman sheriff. Others are of the opinion that it is carrying the new woman joke a trifle too far when she comes in and picks up the fattest job in the whole county.

The Missouri law in regard to women holding office is vague. If Mrs. Stewart should be elected to fill out the unexpired term the legality of her position would come to an issue. Mrs. Stewart is a woman of about 45, short and rather heavy. She is good looking and intelligent. She has not been identified with any of the women's rights movements of about 40 years ago, but can be firm enough to act as sheriff if duty demands.

Big Australian Gold Fields.

The Coolgarie and Murchison gold fields of western Australia cover an auriferous area of 100,000 square miles, or four times the size of Ireland. Over these fields about 30,000 men are scattered, and something like £15,000,000 of British capital is invested in the mines.

Highest Temperature.

The highest temperature of the world is recorded in the great desert of Africa, where the thermometer often marks 150 degrees Fahrenheit.

RUSSIAN WOMEN PHYSICIANS.

They Will Be Allowed to Practice Their Profession.

The Medical College for Women in St. Petersburg is about to be opened, with the permission of the emperor and empress. After the closing of the medical classes for women in 1887, many Russian women went to foreign universities—chiefly France and Switzerland—for their degrees, but through thoroughly equipped with the honorable M. D. they were not permitted on their return to practice in their own country. One of them, Miss A. Bogolubsky, native of a mining village (Nechinsk) in East Siberia, having taken the degree of M. D. at the University of Berlin, in 1887, was obliged on her return to make the position of nurse, and in this humble capacity bravely worked for eight years. On the breaking out of the cholera epidemic in 1892, she begged and obtained permission to labor among the masses of suffering peasants who had migrated from different parts of Russia to settle there. Some of the districts were so congested that thousands would have been without any medical aid had it not been for her untiring energy. On her return to St. Petersburg this year, she presented a petition to the emperor, and received permission to take a degree in Russia, which gives a right to practice in any part of the country. The urgent necessity of female physicians is but too apparent, considering the many tribes (Tatars, Akutes, Turkastans, etc.) whose women are prohibited by the laws of their religion from receiving medical treatment from the opposite sex. —Globe-Democrat.

THE CHARITY LIST.

The Total Number of Beneficiaries on the Roll 945,947.
(Louisville Times.)

There is much interesting matter to be gleaned from Kentucky's pension roll and some good stories might be related of the pensioners were it not a violation of the rules of the bureau to give out the information.

There are no survivors of the war of 1812 that are paid from this office. A hundred and seventy-three widows of the soldiers in that war, however, draw pay at this disbursing station. There are 623 surviving soldiers of the Mexican war that draw pensions through the Louisville office and 409 widows. Of the Indian war there are twenty-six survivors and eighteen widows that receive their pensions through this office. On June 30, 1894, there were pensioners on Maj. Adams roll to the number of 29,414. On the same date in 1893 there were 29,901. This shows a decrease in number for 1894 of 487. The average annual amount paid out is $4,000,000.

There are 2,500 pensioners in this city.

Clearly all the G. A. R. Veterans of Louisville were followers of Grant or Sherman, or some of the noted heroes of the Federal army in the war of 1861-4. Most of these old soldiers have since the war been drawing pensions from Uncle Sam.

The total number of pensioners on the roll is 955,947. To this was paid out last year $139,530,068.22.

Ohio has the largest number of pensioners of all the States, drawing annually $14,737,194.54 for 99,837 on the roll. Pennsylvania and New York are close behind. Kentucky ranks eleventh.

There are 3,575 pensioners on the roll that reside in foreign countries. These are scattered through sixty-six different nations and islands, the larger number inhabiting the various islands of the sea. To this class is paid out annually $273,850.75.

The total amount, including clerk hire, paid out by the department last year was $140,793,625.62. The amount appropriated to pay the pensions of last year was $186,531,360. At the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1894, there was an available cash balance of $25,769,547.92.

It is predicted now that the amount paid out for pensions will steadily diminish with each year. The largest amount paid out in pensions in any one year was in 1893, when $158,155,342.61, was distributed. Last year this amount was decreased by $17,421,610.98.

The number of cases dropped from the pensions rolls last year was 37,951. New applications were granted to the number of 14,183, a net increase of 3,532, yet a decrease is noted in the amount before the bureau to the number of 619,027. The number of orphans on the pension roll is 75,671. The average annual pension is $194.20. The largest regular pension paid out by the bureau is $100. This applies in cases where the loss of both arms has occurred.

There are 382,274 invalid pensioners on the roll who were enlisted in the army and navy of the civil war. In addition there are 105,406 widows of orphans who draw pensions for the service of their husbands and sons.

Until June 30, 1890, some pension rates per quarter were as low as $1. After that time an act was passed by Congress which increased the rates of all pensions to $5.

Of the war of 1812 there are forty-five survivors, all drawing pensions, their ages range from ninety-two to 104 years. The oldest man on the roll served in this war. He is David McKay, and is a descendant in Ireland, Cal. He is a native of Kentucky, and served with the Kentucky troops. He is 104 years old, and is said to be hale for a man of his years.

There are twelve revolutionary soldiers' widows now living. Three of these, Susan M. Chadwick, Sarah C. Hulbert and Ann M. Slaughter, were recognized by speaker of Congress. The ages of this twelve range from seventy-five to ninety. The South furnished the husbands of six, five coming from Virginia and one from North Carolina. Names such as Chadwick, Slaughter, Brown and Sward appear on this list.

A MEMENTO OF LINCOLN.

A Bit of Pasteboard That Reminds His Tragical Death.

Capt. Silas Owen Tells of His Experience in Ford's Theater on the Fatal Night—Some Mistakes Corrected.

For thirty years Capt. Silas Owen has carried in a little envelope, securely hidden in his pocketbook, a square piece of cardboard, on which are these words:

FORD'S THEATER, FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1865, SECTION B, BOX 17A.

It is the coupon of the ticket which Capt. Owen used at Ford's theater on the night that Lincoln was murdered, says the New York Tribune.

The captain was then the commanding officer of the United States ship Princeton, and he and his master's mate, William R. Flood, had gone to the theater especially because it was understood that the president would be present, and Owen had taken seats that would be directly in the line of vision with the presidential box. He cherishes the memento warmly, and frequently talks to his friends about that awful and impressive incident. He is a trustee of Round Lake, and in one of his recent official visits there he gave an interesting reminiscence of it.

"Flood," said he, "was the first man to reach the president's side and I was the second. The firing of the shot hardly gave us any idea of the awful deed that it indicated. Booth clambered down the side of the box and crossed the stage, and even then we could comprehend nothing of the awful nature of the catastrophe until Mrs. Lincoln leaned over the edge of the box, wringing her hands, and, with a face of terror and amazement that will never be erased from my memory, called aloud: 'They have shot pa.' I remember the homely phrasing so well.

"That was enough. Flood was out of his seat as if he had been shot from a mortar. He jumped over the head of the leader and climbed into the box before the rest of the audience seemed even yet to comprehend it. To shoot the president seemed, even in all the horrors of the long war, to be something too incredible. I followed Flood and was second at the side of the dying man. Flood found him still sitting in his chair but with his head resting on his breast, and he gently lowered him to the floor. There was no sign of any wound and no flow of blood and we believed that there was no disaster until while Flood held his head in his lap he felt the soft trickling of matter. It was not blood. He showed it to me and we knew that the dreadful deed was complete. It was the pure white matter of the brain.

"I see stated that they show people the dress of Laura Keane at the tomb, all dabbled with the president's blood. If this is so it is a mistake, for Mrs. Keane was not at the president's side that night, to my knowledge. The blood was shed most likely by Booth's knife, for the assassin made a stroke at her with it. And that calls for another correction. It has frequently been told how Booth strode majestically and tragically across the stage, and, with a flourish of a dagger, cried: 'His semper tyrannus!' As a matter of fact he did not stride majestically at all. He pulled one foot after the other very slowly, for he had fallen as he jumped, his foot being caught in the folds of the American flag which enveloped the lower edge of the stage, and sprained his ankle, and his stride was a most painful process. At the side of the stage, just between the curtain, which was down, and the edge of the proscenium box, stood Mrs. Keane, who had been there some time. She was not in front receiving the applause of a recall, as has also been stated, nor was Harry Hawk with her. Booth dragged himself up to her and she seemed to comprehend ahead of the rest of us what had happened, for she put her hands out toward him and said: 'What have you done, John?' He then made a thrust at her with his dagger and seemed to rip the sleeve of her dress, and he probably wounded her in the arm, for it was a savage blow. It was then that he uttered the cry: 'His semper tyrannus!'—that incredible parody and mockery of the noble Roman's utterance.

"The memory of that great event," said the captain, "will remain vividly with me forever, as it remains now, over thirty years after it happened."

George Hoyt, of Cleveland, O., relates a good story on himself. He was in the first battle of Bull Run, and when the union forces had been put to rout he heard the command to rally on the reserve. He says the only reserve he ever heard of was the Western Reserve, and that he started for that locality as fast as he could go.

The city wagon was left standing on the street near the engine room Tuesday morning and before the driver returned dashed off up Main street at a fearful rate of speed. Several vehicles on Main street narrowly escaped collisions and there was a general stampede of school children and others on the street to get into stores. The team ran out Main street and ran into a phaeton standing in front of Mr. Chas. M. Meacham's house, in which his 10-year-old boy was seated. He jumped in time to save his life, just as the phaeton was torn to pieces. The frightened horses continued to run to the suburbs, a mile or more, before they finally stopped. This is not the first time these horses have run away and unless they are kept under rein they are going to kill somebody yet. Another team ran away the day before and came near running over a child. The L. & N. depot filled with people. There is an ordinance against leaving horses unattended that seems to have been forgotten.
